COPPER FINISHES

Subject to availability. Batch to batch variation in shade may occur within commercial tolerance.

VERDIGRIS, BLACK, BROWN & ANTIQUE FINISHES – These finishes are created by hand, using chemicals to achieve the desired finish. When the chemicals are applied the results are random. It depends how the chemicals react to the copper. The final finish has a lightly rough texture similar to a fine sandpaper. No two products will ever be exactly the same.

POLISHED FINISH - The surface is polished to a high mirror like finish.

SATIN FINISH - The surface is rubbed with sandpaper and wire wool to create dulled satin finish

A clear matt protective coating is applied over all finishes. Composition: Real Copper. Usage: Interior Accessories, Lighting, Bathtubs & Sinks.
